

BRUCE FLETCHER

COMMITTEE MEMBER

Bruce is a financial services and risk management executive who over a more than 40 year career has held senior roles with NatWest, HSBC and Citigroup, in both the UK and the US. He is currently the Chairman of PRMIA (Professional Risk Management International), which is a global risk management training and networking not-for-profit volunteer-led organisation. He most recently was Chief Risk Officer (CRO) at NatWest, and previously was CRO of HSBC's Global Retail Banking and Wealth Management operation, and HSBC Plc., their European banking business. Bruce has a particular interest and expertise in consumer finance, innovation, governance, and financial crime and regulatory compliance

APPOINTED

