

CLAIRE BELFIELD

Claire has worked in a number of sectors over the years from mining, retail, consultancy to running training courses. She now works as administrator for a number of companies including The Cornhill Club. She worked on the introduction of the first cheque guarantee card scheme in Kenya back in the 1980's! In her spare time she enjoys reading and gardening. And you will rarely find her without a set of knitting needles in her hands!

Any questions, ask Claire - if she doesn't know the answer, she probably knows someone who does!
